SUNFLOWER SEEDS PRESS SPROUTS FIRST CHILDREN'S SERIES Authored by Ronda Friend - Master Storyteller

Franklin, Tennessee (March 8, 2004) - Sunflower Seeds Press launches a new short chapter book series authored by R. Friend entitled “Down on Friendly Acres.” This series is jam-packed with new and innovative approaches that will bond parent and child as they discover from R. Friend timeless character lessons gleaned from a rich heritage of family experiences.

“Down On Friendly Acres” combines ten ingredients which sets itself apart from other chapter books. This series utilizes character traits, vocabulary development, wise anecdotes, songs, poems, recipes, hidden sunflowers, real life experiences, cliff hanger endings and an interactive website (www.DownOnFriendlyAcres.com) that will result in appreciative parents and devoted readers yearning for more.

Ronda Friend, has written a series based on her life growing up “Down on Friendly Acres” in the 50's & 60's. This series takes you back to a time when life was unencumbered by today's techno frenzy - a simple farm life devoid of malls, computers, cell phones, video games and ipods. A vivacious six year old, “undercover angel,” and a “hawkephant” unite to share a story about forgiveness in “R. Friend Swallows her Pride,” the first book in this series.
